

Probiotec Limited

Whistleblower Policy

What is the purpose of this policy?

Probiotec Limited (ACN 633 680 065) (Probiotec) recognises the importance of transparency and accountability in its operations to promote best practice in corporate governance. It is committed to the highest standards of conduct and ethical behaviour in all business activities across each entity within the Probiotec Group (collectively, the Probiotec Group, and each a Probiotec Group Member).

The purpose of this policy is to encourage more disclosures of wrongdoing and ensure individuals who disclose wrongdoing can do so safely, securely and with confidence that they will be protected and supported.

This policy does not apply in respect of any disclosures which do not qualify for protection under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) (however these disclosures may be protected under other legislation, for example the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cth)).

This policy also does not apply to client complaints or concerns regarding services, which should be lodged online at www.probiotec.com.au.

Importance of whistleblowing regime

The Probiotec Group is committed to complying with all applicable laws and regulations and acting in a manner that is consistent with the principles of honesty, integrity, fairness and respect. This policy forms part of, and is of integral importance to, the Probiotec Group's risk management strategy and corporate governance framework. This policy is a practical tool for helping the Probiotec Group to identify wrongdoing that may not be uncovered unless there is a safe and secure means for disclosing such conduct.

We encourage any persons who are aware of possible wrongdoing with respect to the Probiotec Group to have the confidence to speak up.

Availability of this policy

A copy of this policy is available externally on www.probiotec.com.au and internally on the Probiotec intranet and in the employee handbook. A copy of the policy will additionally be included in all new starter handbooks.

In addition, the Probiotec Group will conduct upfront and ongoing education and training for employees and officers regarding this policy and the Probiotec Group's whistleblowing processes and procedures.

Amendments to this policy

This policy and the procedures and processes underlying the policy will be reviewed periodically to ensure that they remain effective and meet both best practice standards and the needs of the Probiotec Group.

Contact us

For further information and advice on this policy, contact Jared Stringer, Company Secretary, jared.stringer@probiotec.com.au.

PART A – DOES THIS POLICY APPLY TO YOU?

Purpose of this Part

This Part A aims to assist you in determining whether or not you qualify for protection under this policy.

To be protected under this policy, you must:

- (a) be a person covered by this policy (see Section 1);
- (b) report a matter / issue covered by this policy (see Section 2); and
- (c) report the matter to the correct person or organisation (see Section 3).

If you fail to satisfy any one of the above requirements, you will not be eligible for the protections and support offered under this policy.

The Corporations Regulations 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Regulations) may from time to time amend or supplement the criteria in this Part A. We will update this policy periodically to reflect such updates.

You should obtain independent legal advice to determine whether you fall within the whistleblower regime if you are considering making a disclosure under this policy. Alternatively, you can contact Jared Stringer to obtain additional information prior to making a disclosure.

1 Who is covered by this policy?

This policy will apply to you if you are, or have previously been, any one of the following:

- (a) an officer of a Probiotec Group Member;
- (b) an employee of a Probiotec Group Member (which includes permanent, part time, fixed-term or temporary employees, interns, secondees and managers);
- (c) an individual who supplies services or goods to a Probiotec Group Member, or is an employee of a person that supplies services or goods to a Probiotec Group Member (which includes paid or unpaid suppliers, contractors, consultants and service providers);
- (d) an individual who is an associate of a Probiotec Group Member (which includes business partners); or
- (e) a relative, spouse or dependant of any individual referred to in (a) to (d) above (which includes a dependant of such an individual's spouse).

2 What matters / issues are covered by this policy?

2.1 What disclosures can be made under this policy?

If you are a person this policy applies to (see Section 1), you can make a disclosure under this policy about certain information relating to a Probiotec Group Member.

To make a disclosure under this policy, you must have “reasonable grounds” to believe that the information concerns Reportable Conduct (as defined in Section 2.3 below). If you do not have reasonable grounds, or the information does not relate to Reportable Conduct, your disclosure will not qualify for protection under this policy.

2.2 What constitutes “reasonable grounds”?

Any disclosure of Reportable Conduct must be based on objective reasonable grounds. Your motive for making a disclosure, or your personal opinion of the person(s) involved, does not prevent you from qualifying for protection.

While you do not have to prove the allegations raised in your disclosure, you should have some form of supporting information underlying your belief in order to qualify for protection - you cannot make a completely baseless allegation.

2.3 What is Reportable Conduct?

Reportable Conduct involves information that falls into one of the following categories:

(a) Information concerning misconduct

The information concerns misconduct in relation to a Probiotec Group Member, including information indicating fraud, negligence, default or a breach of trust or duty.

(b) Information concerning an improper state of affairs

The information concerns an improper state of affairs or circumstances in relation to a Probiotec Group Member, including information:

- (i) indicating a systemic issue that the relevant regulator should know about to properly perform its functions;
- (ii) relating to conduct that may cause harm;
- (iii) relating to dishonest or unethical behaviour or practices; or
- (iv) relating to conduct that is prohibited by the Probiotec Group’s standards or code(s) of conduct.

(c) Information indicating a legal offence or contravention

The information indicates that a Probiotec Group Member, or one of its officers or employees, has engaged in conduct that constitutes:

- (i) an offence against any law of the Commonwealth that is punishable by imprisonment for a period of 12 months or more; or
- (ii) an offence against, or a contravention of, a provision of the Corporations Act or one of the prescribed list of other legislative instruments (including the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (Cth), Banking Act 1959 (Cth), Financial Sector (Collection of Data) Act 2001 (Cth), Insurance Act 1973 (Cth), Life Insurance Act 1995 (Cth), National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009 (Cth), Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth) and Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth)), or an instrument made under any of those Acts.

(d) Information indicating conduct representing a danger or significant risk to the public

The information indicates that a Probiotec Group Member, or one of its officers or employees, has engaged in conduct that represents a danger or significant risk to the public or public safety.

(e) Information indicating conduct representing a danger or significant risk to the financial system

The information indicates that a Probiotec Group Member, or one of its officers or employees, has engaged in conduct that represents a danger or significant risk to the establishment of, or confidence in, the financial system.

Examples of Reportable Conduct include:

- engaging in cartel conduct or other forms of anti-competitive conduct prohibited under competition laws
- illegal conduct, such as theft, dealing in, or use of illicit drugs, violence or threatened violence, and criminal damage against property
- insider trading, fraud, money laundering, misappropriation of funds or offering or accepting a bribe
- insolvent trading
- breach of the continuous disclosure rules
- failure to keep accurate financial records
- falsification of accounts or financial irregularities
- failure to comply with, or breach of, legal or regulatory requirements
- failure of a director or other officer of Probiotec to act with the care and diligence that a reasonable person would exercise, or to act in good faith in the best interests of the corporation
- failure of a director to give notice of any material personal interest in a matter relating to the affairs of Probiotec
- engaging in or threatening to engage in detrimental conduct against a person who has made a disclosure or is believed or suspected to have made or be planning to make a disclosure

2.4 Disclosures that cannot be made under this policy

Even if you are a person this policy applies to (see Section 1), this policy will not apply to any disclosure you make that does not qualify for protection under the Corporations Act. We encourage you to raise such issues with a member of the human resources team.

Disclosures that cannot be made under this policy include personal work-related grievances. A personal work-related grievance is one that relates to your current or former employment and has, or tends to have, implications for you personally but does not relate to Reportable Conduct (see Section 2.3) or have any other significant implications for Probiotec.

Examples of conduct which may constitute a personal work-related grievance include:

- an interpersonal conflict between you and another employee
- a decision that does not involve a breach of workplace laws
- a decision relating to your engagement, transfer or promotion
- a decision relating to the terms and conditions of your engagement
- a decision to suspend or terminate your engagement, or to otherwise discipline you

However, a disclosure about, or including, a personal work-related grievance may in some instances still qualify for protection where there is sufficient overlap with the whistleblower regime.

Examples of personal work-related grievances that may still constitute Reportable Conduct include instances where the personal work-related grievance:

- includes information about misconduct, or information about misconduct includes or is accompanied by a personal work-related grievance (ie “mixed reports”)
- relates to conduct which intentionally causes, or threatens to cause, detriment to another person who has made a disclosure under this policy that qualifies for protection

- involves a breach by a Probiotec Group Member of employment or other laws punishable by imprisonment for a period of 12 months or more
- involves conduct by a Probiotec Group Member that represents a danger to the public
- involves you seeking legal advice or legal representation about the operation of the whistleblower protections under the Corporations Act

2.5 No protection for deliberate false reporting

If you deliberately make a malicious, false or vexatious allegation under this policy, you will not be able to access the whistleblower protections under the Corporations Act and may be subject to disciplinary proceedings.

However, if you reasonably suspect misconduct or have some information leading to a suspicion (but lack all the details) we encourage you to nonetheless come forward. Provided you make your disclosure in good faith, you may still be protected even if your allegation is then found to be incorrect, unfounded or unable to be substantiated in a subsequent investigation.

3 How can you report an issue?

3.1 Contact points for making a disclosure

If you are a person this policy applies to (see Section 1), and have reasonable grounds to believe you have information concerning Reportable Conduct (see Section 2), you may make a disclosure to any of the persons or organisations referred to in this Section 3.

Disclosures can be made verbally or in writing and can be made anonymously.

How to make a disclosure

At law you will qualify for protection if you make your disclosure to any of the following:

- (a) an officer of a Probiotec Group Member (ie a director or company secretary);
- (b) a senior manager of a Probiotec Group Member (ie a person that makes or participates in making decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of the business of a Probiotec Group Member or has the capacity to significantly affect the financial standing of a Probiotec Group Member). For the purposes of this policy, the senior managers comprise the chief executive officer (CEO) and chief financial officer (CFO) of each Probiotec;
- (c) Probiotec's external auditor, ShineWing Australia, or a member of the audit team;
- (d) an actuary of a Probiotec Group Member;
- (e) a legal practitioner for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation in relation to the operation of the Corporations Act (even if the legal practitioner subsequently concludes that the information does not relate to Reportable Conduct);
- (f) the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC); and
- (g) the Australian Prudential Regulatory Authority (APRA).

How to make an anonymous disclosure

Should you wish to make an anonymous or confidential disclosure, or a disclosure outside of office hours, you can:

- (a) place your concern in writing in the drop box located at your worksite (ordinarily within the designated lunch / break room; or
- (b) send your concern in writing to 83 Cherry Lane, Laverton North VIC 3026, and still be entitled to protection under the Corporations Act.

Alternatively, you can choose to use a pseudonym to make your disclosure if you are not comfortable making one in your own name.

In such instances, we suggest you still maintain ongoing two-way communication with the Probiotec Group Member and provide a means of contacting you anonymously, to ensure the Probiotec Group Member can properly investigate your disclosure and provide feedback to you during the course of the investigation.

You can choose to remain anonymous even after making your disclosure, both during the course of the investigation of your disclosure (see Section 5), when receiving updates on the status of your disclosure and after the investigation is finalised.

3.2 Ability to make disclosures to journalists or parliamentarians in certain circumstances

Despite the above list, you may be able to make a disclosure to a journalist or parliamentarian that still qualifies for protection in certain discrete instances. We suggest that, before making a public interest disclosure or emergency disclosure, you contact an independent legal adviser to ensure you understand the criteria for making this disclosure in a way that qualifies for protection under the Corporations Act.

Public interest disclosures

To make a public interest disclosure you must meet all of the following criteria:

You must:

- (a) have previously made a disclosure to ASIC or APRA (or a prescribed Commonwealth authority), and at least 90 days have passed since that time;
- (b) not have reasonable grounds to believe that action is being, or has been, taken to address the matters to which the previous disclosure related;
- (c) have reasonable grounds to believe that making a further disclosure of the information would be in the public interest; and
- (d) before making your public interest disclosure, give a written notification to that same body referred to in part (a) containing sufficient information to identify the previous disclosure and stating that you intend to make a public interest disclosure.

You must subsequently make your disclosure either to:

- (a) a member of the Parliament of the Commonwealth, the Parliament of a State or the legislature of a Territory; or
- (b) a journalist (ie a person working in a professional capacity as a journalist for a newspaper, magazine, radio or television broadcasting service or commercial electronic service of a similar nature) (Journalist), and must only disclose information to the extent necessary to inform the recipient of the misconduct, improper state of affairs or other circumstances the subject of the disclosure.

Emergency disclosures

To make an emergency disclosure you must meet all of the following criteria:

You must:

- (a) have previously made a disclosure to ASIC or APRA (or a prescribed Commonwealth authority);
- (b) have reasonable grounds to believe that the information concerns a substantial and imminent danger to the health or safety of one or more persons or to the natural environment; and
- (c) give a written notification to that same body referred to in part (a) containing sufficient information to identify the previous disclosure and stating that you intend to make an emergency disclosure.

You must subsequently make your disclosure either to:

- (a) a member of the Parliament of the Commonwealth, the Parliament of a State or the legislature of a Territory; or
- (b) a Journalist,

and must only disclose information to the extent necessary to inform the recipient of the misconduct or the substantial and imminent danger.

PART B – PROTECTION AND PROCESSES UNDER THE POLICY

IMPORTANT NOTE: THIS PART B ONLY APPLIES TO THOSE WHO QUALIFY FOR PROTECTION UNDER PART A OF THIS POLICY

Purpose of this Part

This Part B sets out the legal protections that apply to persons who qualify for protection under this policy under Part A, and the process through which their disclosure will be handled and investigated.

4 What protections are you entitled to if you make a disclosure?

There are four main protections that apply to persons who qualify for protection under this policy, regardless of whether the disclosure under Part A was made internally or externally in accordance with the Corporations Act.

4.1 Protection of your identity (confidentiality)

No person can disclose the information contained in your disclosure, your identity or any information likely to lead to your identification (where that information has been obtained directly or indirectly because of your disclosure). It is illegal to do so except in one of the following instances:

- (a) you consent to the disclosure;
- (b) the disclosure is made to the following recipients:
 - (i) Australian regulatory bodies (ASIC, APRA, a member of the Australian Federal Police or any other entity prescribed by the Corporations Regulations from time to time); or
 - (ii) a legal practitioner for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation in relation to the operation of the Corporations Act; or
- (c) the information disclosed:
 - (i) is not your identity; and
 - (ii) is reasonably necessary for the purposes of investigating Reportable Conduct, and all reasonable steps are taken to reduce the risk that you will be identified as a result of the information disclosed.

You should obtain legal advice to determine how your information could be used if you are considering making a disclosure under this policy.

To protect your confidentiality from the time of initial receipt of your disclosure onwards, Probiotec has secure filing systems in place for all paper, electronic documents and other materials relating to disclosures and will ensure only those directly involved in managing and investigating your disclosure have access to information relating to the disclosure. However, people may still be able to guess your identity if, for example, you told people you were considering making a disclosure, are one of few people who had access to the disclosed information or were previously told the disclosed information privately or in confidence.

4.2 Protection from detriment

No person can engage in or threaten to engage in conduct that causes you (or anyone else) detriment because (or partly because) they believe or suspect that you (or anyone else) made, may have made, propose to make or could make a disclosure under this policy.

Where a person engages in conduct causing detriment, the person must have intended to cause detriment. However, where a person threatens detriment, it is irrelevant whether they intended to cause you (or anyone else) to actually fear that their threat would be carried out, or were simply reckless as to this effect.

A threat to cause detriment may be express, implied, conditional or unconditional, and it is irrelevant whether you (or the other person) actually fears that the threat will be carried out.

Examples of detrimental conduct:

For the purposes of this policy, detrimental conduct includes any of the following:

- dismissal of an employee
- injury of an employee in his or her employment
- alteration of an employee's position or duties to his or her disadvantage
- discrimination between an employee and other employees of the same employer
- harassment or intimidation of a person
- harm or injury to a person, including psychological harm
- damage to a person's property
- damage to a person's reputation
- damage to a person's business or financial position
- any other damage to a person

However, this does not protect you from all forms of differential treatment where there are alternative reasons behind that treatment.

Examples of non-detrimental conduct:

For the purposes of this policy, non-detrimental conduct includes any of the following:

- administrative action that is reasonable to protect you from detriment (eg when the disclosure relates to wrongdoing in your immediate work area)
- managing your unsatisfactory work performance, if the action is in line with the Probiotec Group's performance management framework

If you have suffered detriment, Probiotec will take such steps as are reasonable in the circumstances (depending on factors such as the nature of the Reportable Conduct and the circumstances of the detriment) to protect your welfare. Such steps may include, for example, providing access to support services and modifying your working arrangements (subject to work needs and availabilities, and the practicality of such measures being put in place).

4.3 Compensation

If you suffer loss, damage or injury because of a disclosure where the relevant Probiotec Group Member failed to prevent a person from causing you detriment (considering factors such as whether the Probiotec Group Member took reasonable precautions to avoid the detrimental conduct and the extent of its compliance with its whistleblower policy (if applicable)), you may go to court to seek compensation or other remedies (eg injunctions, apologies). We encourage you to seek independent legal advice before doing so.

4.4 Protection from liability

You will be protected from civil, criminal and administrative liability relating to your disclosure. However, this protection will not grant you immunity for any misconduct you have engaged in that is revealed in your disclosure or for any action brought in relation to any false disclosure you make.

4.5 Separate protection in relation to tax matters

In addition to the protections available under the Corporations Act, disclosure of information by you may also qualify for protection under the Tax Administration Act 1953 (Cth) (Tax Act) – see Annexure A for further information.

4.6 Complaints

If you feel that the Probiotec Group has breached your rights or that you have been subject to detriment, you can contact Jared Stringer or alternatively lodge a complaint with a regulator (eg ASIC or APRA (or the ATO, if applicable)) for investigation.

5 How will Probiotec handle and investigate disclosures?

5.1 How will your disclosure be handled initially?

Where you have made a disclosure internally, Jared Stringer will acknowledge your disclosure within a reasonable period (provided you can be contacted, even via anonymous channels) and appoint a Protection officer and Investigation officer from the members of Probiotec's management.

- (a) Protection officer: The Protection Officer will assess the risk of detriment to you and those implicated by your disclosure, and be responsible for your protection; and
- (b) Investigation officer: The Investigation Officer will promptly conduct a preliminary review of your complaint to determine whether it qualifies for protection (see Part A) and whether a formal, in-depth investigation is required.

Probiotec is committed to ensuring that confidentiality is maintained during the handling and investigation process, and will only communicate information relating to your disclosure with your consent or otherwise in accordance with Probiotec's obligations of confidentiality (see Section 4.1).

5.2 How will your disclosure be investigated?

The process and timeframe involved in investigating your disclosure will vary depending upon the nature of the disclosure, however, generally the steps taken by the investigation officer in investigating a disclosure will be as follows (in order):

- (a) Scoping: If an investigation is required, the nature and scope of the investigation will be determined (ie who will lead the investigation, what third party advice may be required, what is the likely timeframe). The investigation officer will endeavour to finalise this scoping process within one month after receipt of your disclosure.
- (b) Engagement: If external assistance or specialist advice is required, third parties will be engaged. This may take approximately one month following finalisation of the scoping process.
- (c) Investigation: The investigation officer, along with any internal or external resources or advisers engaged to assist in the process, will investigate the disclosure to determine whether it reveals any Reportable Conduct. The investigation officer will use reasonable endeavours to finalise this process within six months following the engagement phase.

- (d) Recording, reporting and review: The Disclosure Officer(s) and any investigation officer(s) will keep appropriate records and documentation for each step throughout the disclosure handling and investigation process. Investigation findings, and suggestions for rectifying any identified issues, will be reported to Jared Stringer who will, in turn, report periodically to the Probiotec's Board / Audit & Risk Committee. This process may take between one to two months following finalisation of the investigation, noting the method for documenting and reporting the findings will depend on the nature of the disclosure.

The above timeframes are indicative only, and Probiotec cannot guarantee that any of these timeframes will be met despite its reasonable efforts. Timing will depend on a number of factors, including the nature and severity of the wrongdoing, whether you are readily contactable and the availability of third parties to assist with the investigation.

Probiotec acknowledges that this process naturally contains some inherent limitations, for example the natural risk of human error, reliance on availability of resources and third parties over which Probiotec does not have control, issues caused by any inability of Probiotec to contact you and the need for Probiotec to operate within the restraints of confidentiality.

Probiotec will (provided you can be contacted, even via anonymous channels) provide you with regular progress updates and advise you of the outcome of the investigation to the extent reasonable and appropriate in the circumstances (noting there may be circumstances where it is not appropriate for Probiotec to provide you with this information). Probiotec may do so verbally or in writing, noting however that you will not be entitled to receive a copy of the investigation report. The frequency and nature of these updates will vary depending on the nature of the disclosure.

6 How will Probiotec ensure the fair treatment of employees mentioned in a disclosure?

Probiotec will ensure the fair treatment of employees mentioned or implicated in a disclosure by maintaining confidentiality, keeping them reasonably informed about the progress of the disclosure (where practical and appropriate) and, when investigating the disclosure, doing so in a thorough, objective, fair and independent manner.

Annexure A: Additional protection relating to tax matters

1 Overview of eligibility

The Tax Act gives you special protection for disclosures about a breach of any Australian tax law by a Probiotec Group Member or misconduct in relation to Probiotec Group Member's tax affairs where all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) you are a person to whom the tax protections apply (noting this list of people is the same as that in Section 1 of the policy);
- (b) you report the matter to a Disclosure Officer, a director, secretary or senior manager of Probiotec, any external auditor (or member of that audit team), a registered tax agent or BAS agent who provides tax or BAS services to Probiotec, or any other team member or officer of Probiotec who has functions or duties relating to tax affairs of Probiotec (eg an internal accountant) (each, a Company Recipient), the Commissioner of Taxation (Commissioner), or a lawyer for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation in relation to a disclosure; and
- (c) if the disclosure is made to:
 - (i) a Company Recipient, you:
 - (A) have reasonable grounds to suspect that the information indicates misconduct, or an improper state of affairs or circumstances, in relation to the tax affairs of a Probiotec Group Member or an associate of that Probiotec Group Member; and
 - (B) consider that the information may assist the Company Recipient to perform functions or duties in relation to the tax affairs of a Probiotec Group Member or an associate of a Probiotec Group Member; or
 - (ii) the Commissioner, you consider that the information may assist the Commissioner to perform functions or duties in relation to the tax affairs of a Probiotec Group Member or an associate of a Probiotec Group Member.

2 What protections are available?

The protections given by the Tax Act when the above conditions are met are as follows:

- (a) protection from civil, criminal and administrative legal action relating to your disclosure;
- (b) protection from detriment (or threat of detriment) engaged in on the belief or suspicion that you have made, may have made, propose to make or could make a disclosure, and certain rights to compensation for damages caused by such detriment;
- (c) protection of your identity, unless you consent to the disclosure or where:
 - (i) the disclosure is only to the extent reasonably necessary for the effective investigation of the allegations raised in your disclosure;
 - (ii) the concern is reported to the Commissioner or the Australian Federal Police; or
 - (iii) the concern is raised with a lawyer for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation;
- (d) where the disclosure was made to the Commissioner, non-admissibility of the reported information in criminal proceedings or in proceedings for the imposition of a penalty (except where the proceeding relates to the veracity of the information); and
- (e) unless you have acted unreasonably, protection from any adverse costs-order in legal proceedings relating to the disclosure.